NUMBER 5

U. S. SENATOR

Dies After Holding This Office for 33 Years.

United States Senator Allison died at his home in Dubuque, Ia., August 4. The immediate cause of his death was heart failure.

Two weeks ago the Senator left his home to escape the heat. For a few days his condition seemed to improve.

SEMI-CONSCIOUS UNTIL DEATH.

The Senator was brought back home relapsed into a condition of semi-consciousness and remained in this condition until death.

SENATOR BORN IN OHIO.

Senator Allison was born in Perry county, O., March 2, 1829. His boyhood was spent on the farm of his birthplace. He secured his education in Allegheny College in Pennsylvania.

He was admitted to the bar in 1850; married in '54; moved to Dubuque, Ia., in '57; was delegate to Republican National Convention in 1860; served in Congress from '61 to '71; was elected to U. S. Senate in '73 and has held this office until he died. He declined to be Secretary of State under Presidents Garfield, Harrison and McKinley.

HIS SERVICES IN LOWER HOUSE.

On the Ways and Means Committee of the National House, he began the career which made him the chief authority in the country upon the revenues and expenditures of the Government.

For more than forty years he has been assigned by the judgment of his colleagues in the House and Senate to the responsible task of planning the revenues and supervising the expenditures and no man who ever had part in this work had the confidence of both Houses more keenly.

Bryan and Kern to Tour.

William J. Bryan will make several campaign tours, which will embrace nearly all parts of the country, speaking in most of the principal cities between the Atlantic and Pacific coasts.

John W. Kern, the Democratic vice presidential candidate, will likely accompany Mr. Bryan on part of the trip.

Does All We Say.

C. H. Miller, merchant, Taylorville, Ky., says: "We have sold 12 jugs of your Bourbon Hog Cholera Remedy to persons whose dogs were sick with cholera and the medicine does all you claim. We will send you another order soon." Said by W. S. Lloyd.

Tariff Revision.

Information comes from the financial and industrial centres to the effect that the most important manufacturing enterprises have long foreseen an inevitable revision of the tariff and that they have long been getting ready for such a readjustment as this will involve. The United States Steel Company is perhaps the largest single beneficiary of the protective tariff.

It is contended that the United States Steel corporation can produce steel at $13 a ton and that a price of $14 would give it a moderate profit. The price it actually asks is $28, or a profit of $15 a ton. Other prices for steel and iron products are in proportion.—Lexington Herald.

AVOID BEER

AND WHISKY; DRINK WATER.

Rule Given to Prevent Heat Prostration.

By Wm. A. Evans, M.D., Health Commissioner.

The prevention of sunstroke is something that everyone ought to consider during these hot, sultry summer days. The observance of a few simple rules would prevent a large number of the heat prostrations.

The most important single piece of advice that I can give to those who would avoid heat prostration is to leave beer and whisky alone. A large percentage of prostrations occur among drinking men. A common instance is that of the man who tries to work after having been on a spree the night before. He is apt to get sunstroke.

But a man does not have to get drunk to make himself liable to prostration. The man who takes an occasional single glass of beer is not therefore in danger, but any one who indulges more than this is taking a risk. Especially is it bad to stop work frequently to drink liquor of any kind. Plain water drunk in large quantities is an excellent preventive of sunstroke.

Next to drinking the most important thing is eating. A large part of our food is devoted to the heating of the body. It would seem clearly evident that we need less of such heating food in the summer than in the winter.

When the temperature is over 100 degrees in the sun or 90 degrees in the shade, we need no heating food. For this reason meat should not be eaten more than twice or three times a week. A diet of vegetables, fruits and buttermilk should replace it. To all intents and purposes we are living in the tropics in such weather as we have been having lately, and this being the case we should make our diet conform with that of dwellers in the equatorial regions.

Another important matter is the keeping of the bowels open. This is much more important in summer than in winter. We should also keep our skins so clean that every pore will be open and free to perspire. We should drink plenty of water and then give it an opportunity to work out through our skins.

We wear clothes to keep the heat of our body in. That is one of the principle reasons for the phenomena of clothing. But in summer this reason has no force, and we should therefore wear clothes light enough to let the heat of our bodies out.

Lastly, don't worry! Don't look at the thermometer! If it is hot you can safely assume that the other fellow knows it. And it is certain that to tell him it will make both of you several degrees hotter.

These rules are for those that are well. The man who is below par needs other precautions. People with affections of the heart or kidneys or other diseases that lower the vitality should be cautious about putting a strain on the weakened part. In most of the cases of ordinary heat prostration the heat is nothing more than the straw that broke the camel's back.—Chicago Tribune.

Council Refuses to Reduce Assessment.

The City Council of Maysville refused to lower the assessment made on the American Tobacco Company's property for $45,000 to $12,000, as recommended.

WORTHLESS CHECKS.

Man Shoots Himself When His Paper Is Presented.

Charles W. Westerfield, 22 years old, assistant bookkeeper of the Produce Exchange Bank, in New York, committed suicide by shooting himself as two checks bearing his signature were presented at the paying teller's window.

Westerfield had no deposit at the bank to meet the checks, which were for $20 each, and the teller detained the man who presented the checks and sent for Westerfield to make an explanation.

Says Taft Cannot Win.

"Ten shadows on Taft's pathway to the White House," is the official title Rev. R. M. Hissey, of Cleveland, Ohio, at one time Mark Hanna's confidential lieutenant, gives to his list of reasons why W. H. Taft cannot be elected.

Hissey is studying the political situation. He has traveled over the country and State and is predicting defeat.

REASONS FOR HIS BELIEF.

His reasons for his belief in a Democratic victory are:

1—Elimination of Foraker as a Senator will hurt the party.

2—Attitude of the negro vote and Taft's connection with the Brownsville affair was unfortunate.

3—Attitude of the labor vote. Laboring men, whether right or wrong, regard Taft as the father of the injunction.

4—Attitude of the foreign-born population. They reason that, if Roosevelt can select his successor, Taft can select his also, and will establish a political succession—the same as the hereditary monarchical succession in foreign countries.

5—Attitude of the G. A. R. Vote. The veterans are incensed at Taft's remarks on Memorial Day over Grant's monument.

6—Attitude of the Jewish vote, which is incensed at Taft's visit to the Russian Czar.

7—Attitude of the Protestant churches, which are opposed to Taft because of his friendliness to Catholics in the Philippines.

8—Attitude of the Antislavery League, which opposes Taft because he was endorsed by the National Brewers and Distillers.

9—Taft's avowed intention to revise the tariff. This frightens the old "stand-patters," who are chiefly manufacturers and contribute to campaign funds heavily.

10—The bottom has fallen out of the full dinner pail, under a Republican administration.

Lover Kills Rival and Himself.

When James Kelley, a 19-year-old boy, met his sweetheart, Miss Eva Sleeter, and Link James, driving near Metropolis, Ill., on Sunday night, crazed with jealousy, Kelley pulled a gun and killed James, and shot the girl in the abdomen and blew out his own brains.

Young Kelley was driving with Miss Lena Oliver, when they heard a buggy come up behind them. Kelley knew who those behind were, for he quickly turned his horse. Leaping to the ground he began firing. James was killed at the first shot. Miss Sleeter was shot in the abdomen.

Standing in the road, Kelley turned the gun on himself and almost blew off the top of his head.

47,500 BARRELS

Of Whisky Burned—Six Warehouses in Ashes.

At Midway, Ky., on Thursday morning fire destroyed six warehouses of the Greenbaum distillery and 47,500 barrels of whisky. The loss is estimated at $1,054,736, not including tax on whisky. An explosion preceded the fire. Four negro huts also burned. Whisky flowing into creek took fire, and destroyed one railroad bridge and two county bridges.

Bitten By Cat.

Mrs. L. H. Debell, near Lexington, on the Leeston pike, was bitten on the foot by a cat supposed to have been afflicted with rabies. Dr. Brashear was called. The cat was killed and the head will be sent to the Pasteur Institute in Chicago, to be analyzed, and if it is found that the cat was afflicted with rabies, Mrs. Debell will go to Chicago to take the treatment.

Bourbon Turkeys.

Mrs. Ellora Sonnenmaker, Glasgow, Ill., says: "My neighbors have all lost their turkeys. I have eighty head of fine Bourbon turkeys. I give them your Bourbon Turkey Cure twice a week and have not lost a one." Said by W. Lloyd.

In the world but not of the world should be rule of conduct by professed Christians.

Keohae Unknown Choice.

In the Democratic Congressional Convention at Ashland James N. Keohae was unanimously nominated for first ballot, Mr. Hager withdrawing.

SENATOR LINDSAY

Addresses the Virginia Bar Association on "Man and Corporation."

At the Virginia Bar Association in session at Hot Springs, Va., the address of former Senator William Lindsay, of Kentucky, on "The Man and Corporation," evoked considerable enthusiasm.

Mr. Lindsay pointed out that it was the duty of the States to remedy what he regarded as the present day evil of corporation supremacy over the individual. The States, he maintained, created the corporation, and it was their duty to control their creatures. This course, he said, would relieve the Federal Government from interference, which interference he regarded as not only of doubtful constitutionality, but doubtful expediency.

Breathitt Man Pardoned.

Governor Willson on August 4 pardoned Carey Holly, who was sent to the penitentiary in 1896 to serve 18 years for murder in Breathitt county. The Governor's grounds for the pardon are that new evidence was discovered after his trial that under the conditions which were existing in Breathitt county at the time of his conviction, it was practically impossible to have a fair trial.

of Morgan County.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

FOR CANDIDACY IN JUNE.

We are authorized to announce the candidacy of JUDGE A. W. YOUNG for the position of Judge of the Circuit Court for the County of Morgan, Kentucky, in the June election.

CANDIDACY OF JUDGE A. W. YOUNG.

In this issue is the announcement of Judge A. W. Young, who asks endorsement for re-election to the Circuit Judgeship in this district, composed of the counties of Montgomery, Beth, Rowan and Menefee.

We are pleased to state that his administration has been such as to merit his re-nomination and election, irrespective of political considerations. Even the casual observer in his court will see that he discharges business, maintains order, deserves and receives the respect of witnesses, litigants and counsel.

All who are familiar with the conditions in this county know that the lawless element realize that they cannot openly violate the law and go unpunished. We do not say that every man who has violated law has been changed by Judge Young and the jury, but there has been a vast improvement. We confidently expect higher attainments in citizenship resulting from his administration.

As the writer has visited the counties in this district for Facts and Observations, he has heard many expressions of approval of Judge Young on the bench.

We could not expect him to escape criticism by and hostility of some men. Such criticism and hostility is a great compliment to his ability to detect their sham, pretense and falsehood and to his fidelity to what he believes to be his duty under the circumstances. Before we had any intimation that Judge Young would again be a candidate we had fears regarding the future of our county and district; now that he has announced his willingness and desire to again serve his people, we believe that the future will be safe.

We are inexperienced in law and can not pass upon the correctness of his decisions on legal points.

As an expression of our own appreciation of what he has done and of our confidence in him for the future, we move that his nomination be made unanimous.

Do thy neighbor no hurt.

THE REVIVAL IS CLOSED.

All Christians should carry out in daily living the new resolves and lofty sentiments begotten by the appeals of their pastors, and reinforced by Rev. Wharton.

We rejoice in the blessings that come.

For three weeks the tent has been a popular resort.

Again we resume the usual routine of life. Let us be more zealous for good works, more Christ-like.

Penitence for our own indifference and sin and sympathy for others and rejoicing for the privileges that belong to us should be characteristic of Christians.

To the Democrats of the Twenty-first Judicial District.

I have concluded to ask the endorsement of the voters of the Twenty-first Judicial District, for the office of Circuit Judge.

It is perhaps unnecessary to say that during my term of office, I have given to this high and honorable position the best thought and action of which I was capable and can add to it only such things as experience, during my term, has brought me.

I promise you, if nominated by the Democratic party and elected, the same high standard of citizenship will be maintained in the jury to whom you submit your controversies and the law enforced against all violators, regardless of position or condition.

I shall not ask if any other of the distinguished lawyers of the district be chosen over me by my party, but if you feel that the administration of affairs in this office, during my term, merits your approval, I shall ever be grateful to you for your support.

Sincerely yours,
ALICE W. YOUNG.

Caswell Prewitt's Will Probated.

The will of Caswell Prewitt has been probated. The will was written by himself in July. He appointed his son, Cliff, and son-in-law, Ed. R. Prewitt, as executors with out bond. There will be no return sale. To his wife Mrs. Anna Kenney Prewitt, he gives all his household goods, such live stock as she wishes and the residence with 260 acres of land, during her life.

Having advanced to his children, Cliff, Mrs. Ed. R. Prewitt and Mrs. D. W. Thurston $2,000, he directs that an equal amount be given to the other four—Eugene, Henry, Wilmet and Miss Anna Caswell. The remainder of the farm (330 acres) is to go to the seven children equally. He carried $15,000 life insurance. The estate is valued at about $75,000.

OUR COUNTRY 77 YEARS AGO.

Two Generations Have Seen America Rise from Primitive Rudeness.

In 1831 the American people were free, but they held in their hands the lash of slavery. They had to labor and sweat in the fields with the crude implements that had been procured by ages of slavery. For two generations the sickles, flails and wooden plows with which they had tried to build up a prosperous republic had held back agricultural progress. Let us try to reconstruct mentally the America of those days.

Kentucky was not then a national characteristic. The few men who dared to suggest improvements were persecuted as enemies of society. The first iron plow was said to produce the soil. The first railroad was torn up. The first sewing machine was smashed. And the first man who sold coal in Philadelphia was chased from the state as a swindler.

Even the railway was a dangerous toy. The telegraph was still a dream in the brain of Morse. John Deere had not invented his steel plow, nor Howe his spring machine, nor How his printing press. There were no wires, nor machines nor oil lamps. Petroleum was peddled as a medicine at one dollar a bottle. Iron was $17 a ton. Money was short as reliable as mining stocks today, and all the savings in all the banks would not now buy the chickens in Iowa. The total exports amounted to no more than we paid last year for diamonds and champagne. Chicago was a fitfully village. There was no coal nor cotton west. The crop of wheat had been grown in Minnesota, the Dakota, Nebraska, Colorado, Kansas, Washington, Nevada, Idaho, Montana, New Mexico, Oregon, Utah, Arizona, Wyoming, Oklahoma or Texas—Everybody's.

One on the Purser.

Prosperity smiled on a certain man of Martha Vineyard. Like all men, he is in pursuit of happiness. So he hired him a way to a neighboring island. He purchased a fine automobile. Of course it had to be shipped to the island on the steamer.

A few days after the arrival of the machine a friend of the proud owner went to Boston on business. When this friend arrived in New Bedford to take the steamer for the Vineyard, somebody told the purser that the gentleman in question had brought down an automobile from Boston and asked him, "If they had a room on the steamer for the machine."

"Ah," said the genial purser, "he has got an auto, eh? Well, well! When one of those two fellows gets anything the other fellow thinks he must have too. We're pretty well filled up with freight, but I'll try to make room for your little boy who lives in Vineyard Haven—Vineyard Gazette."

THE "LANGUAGE" OF ANIMALS.

Various Cries and Calls Not the Medium of Communication.

Huxley thought that because of the absence of language the brutes can have no trains of thought, but only trains of feeling, and this is the opinion of most comparative psychologists. I am myself quite ready to admit that the lower animals come as near to reasoning as they come to having a language. Their various cries and calls—the call to the mate, of alarm, of tale, of joy—do serve as the medium of some sort of communication, but they do not stand for ideas or mental concepts any more than the various cries of a child do. They are the result of simple reactions to outward objects or to inward wants, and do not imply any mental process whatever. A grouse person may utter a cry of pain or fear or pleasure with a mind utterly blank of any idea. Once on a moonlight night I lay in wait for some boy poaching in my vineyard. As I suddenly rose up, clad in a long black coat, and rushed for one and seized his leg as he was hastening over the fence, he uttered a wild, agonized scream precisely as a wild animal does when suddenly seized. He told me afterward he was slightly frightened out of his wits. For the moment he was simply an unreasoning animal—John Burroughs, in Outing Magazine.

BIBLE SCHOOL CONVENTION.

Some Plans Adopted for Next Year.

The third annual convention of the Christian Church Bible Schools of this county was held in town on Thursday, August 6. B. W. Trimble presided. The program as printed last week was carried out. Those who took part were: H. D. Clark, Miss Ann Clay, C. W. Harris, J. T. Highland, W. H. Cord and B. W. Trimble, all of this county. Rev. J. H. McNeill, of Winchester, and R. M. Hopkins, of Louisville. Special songs were sung by Miss Mamie Greene and Miss Mattie Judy Bots.

An elegant dinner was served in the church parlor by the ladies to about 200 guests.

The attendance was chiefly teachers and officers of schools and pastors of congregations.

Each of the superintendents of the six schools was present and a fair representation of the teachers. The program was a feast of good things, a committee composed of representatives of these schools reported as follows:

COMMITTEE REPORT.

1 Resolved, That we hold our next convention the first week in August, at Antioch, if agreeable, and that we make it a worker's conference as this year and last, uniting officers, teachers and scholars who are interested; that is, every worker should be present.

2 Resolved, That we nominate for officers, president, Prof. W. H. Cord; vice president, J. T. Highland; secretary, Mrs. T. C. Quisenberry.

3 Resolved, That we ask every preacher to bring before his church this centennial enterprise of endowing with $25,000 the new Bible School department in the College of the Bible, and we ask our worthy brother, B. W. Trimble, see that this be done by personal conference and otherwise.

4 Resolved, That we ask every school to send its report each week to the Weekly Bulletin, Louisville, Ky.

5 Resolved, That we sincerely thank the Mt. Sterling Bible School for their very generous hospitality and we assure them that we are always ready to come to see them.

6 Resolved, That we express our very great appreciation of the services of our retiring president, B. W. Trimble, and assure him that he has set a very high standard of efficiency for all his successors in office.

7 Resolved, That we ask that these resolutions be printed in the Mt. Sterling Advocate, the Mt. Sterling Gazette and the Sentinel-Democrat.

McCall's Patterns.

We have doubled our stock of these patterns so that we are able to furnish you any pattern they make without a special order and without having to wait.

KILL THAT CAT

If it Acts Queerly—Children and Woman Had Been Bitten By Cats.

Henry Higgs, a well known grocer, of Nicholasville, Ky., left Friday afternoon for Chicago, where he will place his two small grandchildren, Isaac and Ada Higgs, at the Pasture Institute for treatment.

The children several days ago were bitten by a pet cat. The cat had been acting queerly. The cat's head was sent to the Pasture Institute for examination, and a telegram from there announced that the animal had a fully developed case of rabies.

Mrs. L. H. Debell, of Fayette county, who was bitten by a cat Tuesday, left Friday night for Chicago for treatment. The head of the cat was sent for examination. A telegram from Chicago advised her to come at once. The cat had rabies.

I have used it since that time and cured many on our trains who have been sick. I am an old soldier who served with Rutherford B. Hayes and William McKinley four years in the 23rd Ohio Regiment, and have no ailment except chronic diarrhoea, which this remedy stops at once." For sale by R. H. White & Co., 4-11

Against Growers.

J. D. Clark, secretary of the Fayette County Board of Control of the Society of Equity, has announced that men who raised tobacco in 1908 in defiance of the "no crop" edict of the Equity Society, will not be permitted to become members of the society. They are desirous, it is said, of joining for two reasons: to get higher prices for products and to secure protection from night riders. There are about two hundred growers in the State who grew tobacco this year.

Dies in Cincinnati.

A man, supposed to be M. J. Cooper, of Carter, Ky., was seized with a hemorrhage while waiting for a train at the grand central station in Cincinnati, O., Thursday morning and died on his way to the City Hospital. In his pockets was a railroad ticket to Quannah, Texas, to Garrison, Ky.

SCHOOL CHILDREN WITH MONEY.

One Pupil in New York Acted as the Family Bank.

"Where do school children get all the money they take to school?" was asked a New York teacher who was worrying over the frequent thefts from the pupils in her room.

"I don't know," she said. "The situation is unusual. It is a fact that almost every child brings money to school. Many of them have only a cent to buy a doughnut or a stick of candy, but others carry surprisingly large sums. Not long ago the charges of their were so frequent in my room that I tried to stop this universal carrying of money. I asked the mothers not to give their children money during school hours, except in cases where it was really needed to buy lunch. Many of them promised to cut off the allowance, but the small coins continued to circulate just the same. A few mothers declared that they gave the children money for safe keeping. I learned that one girl in my class came to school day after day with from $20 to $30 pinned in her clothes. The father spent everything he could lay his hands on, and as the girl's garments were the only place where he could never find the money she was converted into the family bank."

The plan seemed to work, so far as the spendthrift father was concerned, but it worried the teacher.

WAS NOT THE VICTIM OF CUPID.

Young Man Thinks For Quite Other Than Sentimental Reasons.

She said it was a shame, an outrage. She was a timid, reserved girl, who gave no man encouragement to flirt, yet—

"There is that man," she said, "bothering the very life out of me. I don't know how many times he has seen me in the street somewhere and has followed me right up to the door. The next time he annoys me I shall get the ball boy to order him away."

"Do you see that man in the vestibule lighting a cigar?" she said. "I can't," said the boy.

"But you must," she said, angrily. "There is no business to be hanging round here."

"Pardon me, but he has business here," said the boy. "He lives on the third floor."

Old Gloves.

They have about 50 or 60 kid gloves at the ticket office down at Union station. They are kid gloves, and are every old kind. But the trouble is that among them all there is not one pair. They are all odd gloves, mostly bought some time ago, and the money in their left-hand pockets, and when they're buying railroad tickets, they take off the left glove. Then when they go away and leave the glove boys in the ticket office they are no better off than if they had left nothing behind but an air of mystery. It's surprising, too, they say at the ticket office, "how many men have one or two fingers missing. Out of the lot of old gloves now there, a dozen or more have at least one finger gone. The ticket sellers watch for men who have fingers missing and try to match them up with gloves that correspond. With that exception, most of the gloves go to waste."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The "Woman of Stenay."

The name of the "Woman of Stenay" is revered in Lorraine as a national heroine. In the twelfth century there was a detachment of Austrians which Stenay and demanded a cash of wine. The "Woman of Stenay" courageously refused to sell the soldiers they were welcome to her store, and drank a cup of wine to their health. The soldiers promptly drank, but in a few moments 400 men were writhing in agony on the ground; the "Woman of Stenay" rose from her seat, saying: "You are all poisoned! Vive la France!" and she fell back a corpse.

Birthplace of the Iceberg.

We might call Greenland the world's ice box. If you glance at the map you will see that the state of New York large as seems to us, is not over one-twentieth of the size of Greenland, for New York contains only 47,000 square miles.

Then think that the glaciers are steadily moving away from the center of Greenland, really being crowded off the land, and it will not seem so strange that here in the birthplace of nearly all of the icebergs that are so feared by the mariner.—St. Nicholas.

In Bulk Only.

"What are you paying for poetry today?" the long-haired man inquired.

The editor glanced at the closely rolled manuscript in the visitor's hands.

"I'll have to consult the janitor," he said. "We are not buying heavily at present. Just a little now and then to accommodate our friends. But we never buy it in less than ten-pound lots."

Whereupon he went back to his desk and the caller faded away.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

According to Orders.

"How do you do?" exclaimed the letter carrier as he greeted the auctioneer.

"I do as I am bid," answered the auctioneer.

"Much the same here," rejoined the letter carrier. "I do as I am directed."

WAS FIRST USED AS A SYMBOL.

Origin of the Star and Crescent on Turkish Flag.

Very ancient are the star and crescent of the Turkish flag. Their origin is explained as follows: The characters of the language of Mesopotamia, like the Egyptian, were originally hieroglyphic. One of the early pictures was a crescent and a star and this picture, which was pronounced "shpu," was employed to express an incantation or exorcism, or anything capable of driving the evil spirit from the body of which it had taken possession. Clay tablets recording the ancient exorcisms have been found in the ruins of Mesopotamia and at the beginning of such tablets appears the sign which developed from the crescent and the star. The symbol, therefore, may have been not only the word for incantation, but a charm from which the evil spirits were supposed to flee. In every age in the Orient the people have possessed similar charms. The Assyrian kings stationed winged monsters with forms half human and half bird, to guard the entrance to their palaces. The poorer people suspended clay tablets above the entrances of their houses. The modern Orientals buy purchase in the bazars blue glass beads, verses from the Koran wrapped in leather—these and other devices serve a similar purpose. The crescent and star formed a symbol which the Mesopotamians of 6,000 years ago employed as a charm.

EARLY FERNS OF SPRINGTIME.

Interesting Development of the Cotton into the Fiddle Head.

As real names, cotton and fiddle heads have not enough in common to bring them together in one title, but as fanciful names for the two earliest stages of the springtime fern, the two are closely associated. The "fiddle" fern soon merges into the "fiddle head."

Just as the buds of trees and shrubs beginning to swell come to appear all over the ground of the lowlands in many places, and so close is the resemblance that at first glance the young ferns and the buds of cotton had been scattered broadcast. These buds conceal the ends of the young fern fronds, the botanist knows the term "acrotome" for the form of rolling or unrolling. As soon as the fern has grown an inch or two in height the cotyledon appears and the "fiddle head" form becomes very marked.—St. Nicholas.

Too Hard to Pronounce.

A well dressed man entered a florist's shop near the city hall the other day, threw down a dollar and said he wanted some flowers to take home, and he clares the Cleveland Star. He was quite untidy, evidently taping off a spree, and the flowers were apparently intended as a domestic peace offering. The florist picked out a collection of hyacinths and the caller started to leave, but at the door hesitated. "I say," he said, thickly, "what are these flowers called?" "Hyacinths," said the florist. The customer shook his head, and, as he walked back to the counter, said: "Gotten here something easier. Gimme a dozen roses."

Lucky Herdman.

A curious legend attaches to the discovery of the mummy which Ephesus was built. The name of a herdman named Plokoros fought while feeding on the hill. One of them—in the contest with the reaper broke the crust of the whitest marble. The peasant running to his Ephesian fellow-citizens with the specimen, his prize was resolved with applause, and his name was changed to "Evangelos"—Giver of Glad Tidings; and the stone being excavated for Diana's temple divine honors were subsequently paid to him!

Military Logic.

But experience teaches that there is no stopping the flow of military logic. From its own point of view it is quite reasonable. The security of one range of hills requires the occupation of the next; and the retort of that second range requires the conquest of a third. So it goes on. As Lord Salisbury once said to Lord Corner: "If you listened to all the soldiers want, you would be asked to consent to the fortification of the moon against a possible attack from the earth from Mars."—London Spectator.

To Banish the Goat.

Malta's celebrated goats are likely soon to be only a memory on the historic island, for it has been found that banishing goats' milk means an end to the ravages of Malta fever. The commission appointed to study the origin of the fever in the garrisons and crews of warships made the discovery that the germ of the fever was present in the milk of the goats. However the use of this milk has been prohibited the fever has disappeared.

Phonetics.

"What picture does it bring to your mind, Katie Smith, when we sing 'Three Cheers for the Red, White and Blue?'"

"I see 'em bring out three chairs, teacher: a chair for the red, a chair for the white and a chair for the blue."

Lovely Woman.

Miss Oldie—Mr. Dasher hadn't been alone with me five minutes before he offered to kiss me.

Miss Castigate—Well, he's considered to be the most charming man in the city.—Brooklyn Eagle.

WHEN THE OLD LADY WILTED.

Floriote's Simple Explanation as to His "Remarkable" Plant.

With a firm tread and a masterful air a lady strode into the shop of a London florist. Her choice fell on a remarkably green palm in an ornamental pot.

"Will it flourish in the sunshine?" she inquired of the shop assistant, with a sharp glance from her eagle eye.

"Yes, madam," was the courteous response.

"Don't say it will if it won't," snapped she, amiably. "If it does well in the sun, will the shade hurt it?"

"Oh, no, madam."

"What!" she exclaimed, with a triumphant, now-I've-caught-you air. You tell me it will thrive equally well in sun or shade? Young man, you don't know your business! Fetch your employer!"

"The owner of the establishment was instantly summoned. Even he quailed before her, but for all that he backed up his employer's statement.

"That's a singularly remarkable and accommodating plant," he commented, waxing sarcastic. "My good man, it's both ridiculous and unnatural!"

"That's just it," interrupted the glass expert. "It's an artificial plant."

ILL HEALTH AND MORBIDNESS.

Unfortunate Result of Intense Passion for Sympathy.

One of the tendencies of ill health is to make one morbid. People who are constantly thinking about their ailments, worrying about their troubles, suffering pain, often develop a morbid passion for sympathy. They want to tell everybody of their aches and pains, to describe their symptoms to a writer. Have you ever known a woman who has acquired the doctor habit, a woman who loves nothing in the world quite so well as an opportunity to tell the doctor of her ailments? She has poured them out to the doctor, and the doctor, in turn, will tell her how long for some one who can really appreciate it all, who sympathizes with her in her troubles; so she goes on, and the doctor goes on to see him. This becomes almost a mania with some women, who have few outside activities to divert them. Their minds are naturally turned to themselves and they think of their unfortunate condition until they become saturated with the poisoned thought.

Human Pincushions.

"I was in an uptown tearoom where the scenery is all out of proportion," said a New York clubman. "I was dining with some ice cream when my spoon struck a common, everyday pin in the bottom of the tray. The waiter handed me a little vial and a waiter slipped to my side. 'See, a pin in this ice cream,' I said. 'Why, I might have swallowed that!' He took the vial and disappeared. When he returned he reminded me of an undertaker, he was that solemn. 'That pin has lost a man his job,' he said, thickly. 'Well, I regret I am sorry for that, but it might have cost me my life, when you come to think of it.' 'Yes, sir,' said the waiter, modestly. 'Then, you see, sir, most of the folks that eat here just sip their ice cream and don't chew it.'"

"Rest Cure" in England.

"Sleep and be beautiful! Rest and preserve your charms!" That is what wise Englishwomen are saying to themselves nowadays, and when they are doing most religiously. Many make a point of lying down for half an hour before lunch and before tea, and after supper, if it suits them better, on a couch heaped with cushions. And to make the rest sweet the cushions are filled with fragrant herbs and flower petals. Some very dainty women have cushions packed with rose leaves. Lavender pots are used too, and pine needles, which have all ways been famous as sleep inducers. Some women insist that hops, loosely stuffed in the cushion covers, are the best thing to make one drowsy.

Essentials of a Great Man.

You can not substitute any epithet for great, when you are talking of great men. Greatness is not general dexterity carried to any extent; nor proficiency in any one subject of human endeavor. There are great assemblers, great scholars, great painters, even great poets, who are very far from great men. Greatness can do without success, and with it, William was greater in his retreats than Marlborough in his victories. On the other hand, the uniformity of Caesar's success does not dull his greatness. The greatest man is he who is greatest in the man—Arthur Helps.

Poor Bobby!

"My son," said Bobby's father, "you should always remember and emulate the busy bee."

Ten minutes later Bobby was caught in the neighbor's apple tree gathering blossoms. After being peppered with salt by the irate neighbor he was taken down behind the barn and soundly thrashed.

"That's what you get for emulating the busy bee," he sobbed. "Next time I am going to emulate the lazy toad and sit in the grass and do nothing."

Doubts About It.

"Bangs' daughter had such expensive tastes that I suppose it is a relief to him to get her married to a man who doesn't know about that."

"Why not?"

"She was always on his hands, but now that he has taken her up the aisle, she was on his arm."

PROBLEM SOLVED.

Experimental Stage in Air Navigation is Passed.

For some months the public has read of great progress in the perfection of airships. Count Zeppelin, in Switzerland, has attracted most attention. As complete mastery of the difficulties seemed imminent and his ship was attracting attention in all countries, an explosion caused by an electric storm destroyed his great invention. Last week he carried 15 men with him in a test of 24 hours and attained a speed of 40 miles per hour. The ship was 450 feet long, 43 feet in diameter, cigar shaped, carried three motors of 140 horse-power each, had 16 air tight gas compartments and cost $100,000. The inventor is now 70 years old. So great was the sympathy for him and interest in his great ship that public subscriptions soon amounted to $375,000 for the replacing of this wonderful ship. He had exhausted his private fortune in the invention.

Call For Judicial Confirmation.

At a meeting of the Democratic committee of the 23rd Judicial District, held in Jackson, July 31, for the purpose of naming a time, place and manner of nominating a candidate for Circuit Judge and one for Commonwealth's Attorney, to be voted for November, 1908, it was ordered that mass meetings be held in each of the counties at the court house Thursday, the 20th day of August, 1908, and elect delegates for the district convention.

It is further ordered that the convention for said District be held in Jackson, Ky., at 2 o'clock p. m. Tuesday, the 25th day of August, 1908.

It is desired to remove a stain from a man's reputation.

RELIGIOUS

On Sabbath, August 16, at 3:30 p. m., Rev. H. G. Moody will begin a protracted meeting at the Gilead Presbyterian Church. Everybody is invited.
The Woman's Christian Temperance Union will meet with Mrs.

day afternoon at 4 o'clock. A full attendance is desired.
The Conference of the M. E.
Church, South, convenes at Mid-dlesboro on September 9th, Bishop E. R. Hendrix presiding. Rev. C.
F. Oney is closing his third year with Camargo and Grassy Lick congregations, and we hope he will be returned to this charge.
There will be a sermon preached at the Presbyterian Church on Wednesday, August 12, at 7:30 p.
m. On Friday, August 14, at 7:30
p. m., there will be service preparatory to communion. Rev. H. G.
Moody will preach at both services.
Applicants for church membership are invited to come on Friday night. The sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered on Sabbath, August 16, service beginning at 10:30 a. m.

The protracted meeting at Farmers, conducted by Rev. Wm. H.
Cord, began on July 20, and closed August 1st. There were fourteen confessions, eight by letter, twelve reclaimed, and two from other churches, added to the membership. The Farmers Church has been without a regular minister for four months, in which time no part of church work or worship was kept up except the Bible School and the mid-week prayer-meeting. The membership has added four members to the official board of the church, determined to observe the Lord's Supper each week, supply a regular pastor, and do all they can for the cause in that community.

McCue.—On Monday afternoon
Ed. McCue, of our office, received a telegram saying that his brother, Wm. K. McCue, of Cincinnati, had died at 8 o'clock that morning.
Deceased was the second son of James McCue, of Sharpsburg, and was 35 years of age. He was for 8 years in the U. S. Army and attained the rank of First Lieutenant, returning three years ago on account of disabilities and fever contracted during service. He was in service in Cuba, China and the Philippines. After returning he was for two years Military Instructor at Danville Military Institute in Virginia. Since then he has lived in Cincinnati. He leaves a wife and one child. His father and brothers, Harry and Ed, went to Cincinnati early on Tuesday to attend the burial.

McMAHAN-ANDERSON.

On this (Wednesday) afternoon,
August 12, 1908, at 2:30 o'clock,
at the country home of her mother, Mrs. M. W. Anderson, near the Levee, Miss Mary G. Anderson will be united in marriage to Mr.
T. J. McMahan, of St. Louis, Mo.
The ceremony will be by Rev. T.
N. Williams, of Louisville, in the presence of a few friends besides the relatives. Her little nieces, Dorothy Tyler and Lela Rogers, will be flower girls, and Mattie Moore Rogers will be ribbon bearer. A bridal trip will be taken to northern lakes for about three weeks, after which they will go to St. Louis. The bride was for eighteen years prominent in educational affairs of this county; where she taught for ten years before she was elected Superintendent of Schools, which position she filled for eight years. She was the first Superintendent who secured a re-election to this important position.
Our best wishes attend them.

THE REVIVAL.

The union revival service conducted for three weeks by Rev. H.
M. Wharton, of Philadelphia, closed on Sunday night. The attendance has been large. The tent has usually been comfortably filled and several nights over crowded.
A conservative estimate of the crowds is 1200 to 1300. Rev.
Wharton's preaching has resulted in much good. No record was kept of those who signified their intention to become Christians.
Already about 50 persons have united with the churches in this city and there should be many more who will fulfill their expressed intentions at the prayer meetings to-night and at next Sunday services. Delay for them is dangerous. If Christians are awake to their responsibilities and opportunities, there will be much personal work among those people who have thus publicly shown that they intend to become Christians.
Let there be a happy season of ingathering. Rev. Wharton's ministry should greatly benefit Christians, leading us to diligence in the study of God's word and to better lives, that we be living examples to new converts and to unbelievers. We have heard many commendations of the preacher.
The pastors of the churches have been in close touch with him.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Dr. J. T. Ricketts, without compensation, gladly gave the use of his lawn for erection of tent.

The expenses for all purposes, including compensation to Rev.
Wharton, will be fully $850, he having received over $500.

The choir, with Rev. T. B. Hill as leader, was composed largely of women and misses.

The last service was held on Sunday night. The attendance was the largest of any. The evangelist urged all who had signified their intention to be Christians to unite at once with the church of their choice.

Monday evening Rev. Wharton delivered a lecture, telling of a trip taken by a party of thirty to Egypt, Palestine, Greece, Italy, etc. He spoke for one and one-half hours. It abounded in amusing incidents and gave many the chance to laugh heartily. The voluntary offerings amounted to $95. Immediately after the lecture he left for his home in Philadelphia, Pa. He will return to Kentucky and begin a meeting at Newcastle, September 6.

On Tuesday the tent was prepared for shipment to Newcastle.
The seats and stage will be kept for future use, under direction of the Commercial Club, and are stored in the unused Presbyter-ian Church.

SOCIAL EVENTS.

Mrs. W. W. Gay (nee Woodford), of Clark, will give a reception at her country home this afternoon. Several ladies from this city and county are invited.

Last week the following composed a house party at the hospitable home of Mrs. Amanda F. Clay:
Mrs. Julius Martin and Misses Allene and Carolyn Martin, of Springfield, Mo.; Mrs. J. S.
Phelps, Mrs. Anna Bailey and Miss Jennie James, of Lexington, Ky.; Mrs. John G. James, of New York City, N. Y.; Miss Manie
Stoner, Victoria, Texas; Mrs.
Chas. Allen, Bowen, Ky., and Mrs. Rada Phelps, Sharpsburg, Ky.

On Monday evening at her home in this city, Miss Mary Ray, daughter of R. M. Trimble and wife, entertained in honor of her guests, Miss Belle Cromwell, of Cynthiana, and Miss Helen O'Rear, of this county. In the receiving line were also Misses Rogers, of Washington, Mary Bruce Jones, Lillian and Lodema Wood and their guest Miss Cecil, of Catletts-burg. The spacious apartments of the attractive home, were decorated in yellow and white and the lawn was lighted with Japanese lanterns. The moonlight added charm to the scene and the merry laughter of the 100 guests blended with the strains of music by a stringed orchestra; The refreshments were ices and cakes and lemonade. The hours were pleasantly spent and will long be remembered by those present.

Fine steaks a specialty. Veal,
Lamb and Pork every week.

Hustling for Business.

We are pleased to state that our townsman, H. G. Hoffman, is an important factor in the insurance business. His general agency of the State Mutual Life for Kentucky stood third in new business written in the United States during the month of July; only leaded by Chicago and Boston offices; stood fifth in business actually paid for.
